

"I am an old man—and many of my troubles never happened."—ELBERT HUBBARD

Wrinkled faces of our busy men and women tell of anxiety—more than disease or age. Worry plays system—so that digestion is ruined and the life of the delicate parts of an organ.

MOOSE BAND CELEBRATION

On Bunker Hill July 4th. A Big Day For All.

The most enterprising organization that Lexington can boast of at this time is the Moose Band. They are awake to the possibilities of the glorious fourth as a day, not only for recreation and an outward manifestation of patriotism, but amusement as well. They will therefore on July 4th celebrate in an appropriate manner the signing of the Declaration of Independence by giving an old time basket picnic on Bunker Hill.

Arrangements have not been fully completed for the day's entertainment, but we are assured by those who have the matter in charge that nothing will be left undone to make it one of the most enjoyable 4th of July celebrations ever held in the county. There will be speaking, plenty of music, athletic events, in which the fat and the slim will be expected to shine. A prize will be given in each event.

At night a display of fire works and a band concert will be given on the grounds.

Everybody is invited to come, and of course bring a well filled basket.

Saturday night John Dreyer and Ed Williams, both new hands at driving automobiles, tried to pass each other on the same track with their new Paige cars, but with rather unsatisfactory results. Both cars were damaged slightly. Hall Brothers with their machinist came down from Kansas City Sunday and soon had the Williams car ready for the road. The Dreyer car had a front axle twisted and had to be taken to Kansas City. Hall Brothers are surely Johnnie-on-the-spot when one of their patrons gets into trouble.

Miss Grace Comstock spent Sunday in Higginsville.

Elton Greer of Kansas City spent Sunday here with home-folks.

Mrs. L. L. Price returned to her home in Kansas City Saturday evening after a visit here with Mrs. H. Barron.

Misses Tillie and Pearl Bour returned home Saturday evening after a visit in Kansas City.

No Test Necessary.

Brother Williams in the Saturday's issue of the Daily Advertiser cites a recent test of the efficacy of advertising in The Daily Advertiser. He was given an ad for a lost umbrella and before breakfast the next morning the umbrella was in the possession of the owner. That was very good, but for sure enough quick results. The Intelligence has that skinned a country block. Saturday morning. Hon. Alex. Graves gave this office an ad for a lost watch. The ad was given to the compositor and in due course found its way to the make-up stone and placed in the forms, but before the paper could be printed and circulated, the watch was in the possession of its owner. Merely call up No. 7 if you have lost anything, sometimes that is all in necessary.
